BASEBALL AND TRACK SEASON IN FULL BLAST

Baseball Teams Have Been Organized And Managers Have Been Elected

While Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig are warming up with the Yankees down in Florida, Winthrop has initiated a baseball season of her own! And for the first time, each class is to have a team and manager.

The Seniors elected Ilian Hagood to manage their team. She has been outstanding in athletics during her entire college career, being a member every year of her class hockey, basketball, swimming and track teams.

Patsy Peay of Chester was chosen by the Juniors for their "Walter Johnson." Her ability on the team will be remembered as a member of the hockey and basketball squads.

The Sophomores displayed their usual wisdom in selecting Mary Agnes Crews of Spartanburg, who is Sophomore representative on the Athletic Board. She was a "sub" in basketball as a Freshman and in hockey as a Sophomore.

Sara Grace Craig of Salem, S. C., will man the Freshman ship of baseball. That she is capable and well-fitted is shown by her previous record in athletics in high school, where she was captain of the basketball team.

In the meantime, track has not been neglected. The ladies' track will continue for three weeks. It has been decided by the Athletic Board that one can not engage in both track and baseball.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES PLANNED

Debaters' League to Sponsor Four Events to Be Staged During Coming Months

The Debaters' League met on Wednesday to discuss the reorganization of their society for the third year. The officers of the league will be announced at the next meeting, which will be on April 9. The members have already made many plans for this term. Arrangements have been made for four intercollegiate debates.

One of these consists of a debate between the Citadel and P. C., which will take place at Winthrop on Tuesday, April 7. The query is to be: "Resolved, That higher education should be limited to those of special mental ability." On the following day, April 8, the Citadel will debate Winthrop on the query: "Resolved, That the colonies belonged to Germany before the War of 1911-1919 should be restored to that country." Definite dates have not yet been agreed upon for the other debates. Lenoir-Rhyne at Hickory, N. C., is to debate with us on the query: "Resolved, That the nation should adopt a plan of complete disarmament, excepting such armaments as are necessary for police purposes."

Winthrop is to uphold the negative of this question. We are also to uphold the negative of the query: "Resolved, That the University of the South on the question of the recognition of Russia."

After the meeting had been called to order, and the minutes had been read and approved, the president, Miss Sadie Goggens, the speaker for the afternoon, who gave a charming informal talk on industry in South Carolina. Following Miss Goggens' talk the members enjoyed a piano duet.

ANGNA ENTERS IN ORIGINAL PROGRAM

"Moyen Age" and "Cafe Walk" Captivate Winthrop Audience—Remarkable Program

An actress, a dancer, a mimic, Angna, is a clever and more. She is a clever and profound interpreter of life—a life which waxes from rippling lightness to primal emotions; a life made gay by beauty, dance, and humor, made disgusting by disappointment, ennui, and succumbing to evil impulses, made noble by love, motherhood, and kindred infuences; a life of sorrows, conquests, gaiety, mystery, and beauty.

From the moment the audience was carried to Vienna on a summer night until it was abandoned in a simple country place, it remained enthralled. In From-mad, Field Day, and Cafe Walk, Miss Enters displayed humorous, yet very human, pictures of life. Feline was true to its costume and its movements to create an ancient cathedral. An outstanding feature of the performance was the contrast created between Après-dinner, Hour-and-a-Quarter of Heaven. In this Miss Enters proved herself an artist in the true sense of the word. In the first there was the social, the grace, the costume, and the movements of the successful street-walker; in the latter was the beauty, the purity, the nobility, and the love of glorified modesty.

The principle of the chain-store system is detrimental to the best interests of the United States people, is one of universal interest. Mr. F. R. Wood and Mr. N. A. Leake, the two speakers, who held the affirmative; Miss Louise Pritchard and Miss Mary Ella Horton, Winthrop's representatives, defended the negative. Miss Janet Kinsley, who presided, introduced the speakers as old rivals and also remarked that this was the first occasion on which the Carolina team had debated with a girls' team. Both teams gave a clear, forceful argument. It was quite evident that each speaker had made a careful study of the question, and that each speaker had made a careful study of the question, and that each speaker had made a careful study of the question.

UNIVERSITY WINNER IN DEBATE WITH WINTHROP

Negative Side of Chain Store Query Upheld by Misses Pritchard and Horton

On Thursday night, March 20, the Winthrop-Carolina debate was held in the auditorium of Johnson Hall. The query for discussion, "Resolved, That the principle of the chain-store system is detrimental to the best interests of the United States people," is one of universal interest. Mr. F. R. Wood and Mr. N. A. Leake, the two speakers, who held the affirmative; Miss Louise Pritchard and Miss Mary Ella Horton, Winthrop's representatives, defended the negative. Miss Janet Kinsley, who presided, introduced the speakers as old rivals and also remarked that this was the first occasion on which the Carolina team had debated with a girls' team. MISS JOSEPHINE LITTLE IS VISITOR AT WINTHROP

Finance Secretary of National Student Council Discusses Financial Problems

Miss Josephine Little, finance secretary for the National Student Council of the Y. W. C. A., New York City, was a visitor on our campus from Wednesday until Friday of last week.

With her, Miss Little met with several campus groups and discussed problems common to the particular group with which she was meeting.

On Wednesday, she addressed the finance department and all societies of student giving. Practical illustrations of what other colleges are doing in this work added interest to her discussion. She set forth definite reasons for a decrease in the amount students are giving to the Y. W. C. A. The most interesting of these reasons are to be used in a further study which will constitute a financial survey.

To the different committee meetings, Miss Little pointed out the relation of finance to practically all other campus programs. She stressed the fact that local Y. W. C. A.'s are very closely linked with the national Y. W. C. A. movement.

Miss Little met with the presidents and treasurers of various campus groups, in which she dealt primarily with the student interest of today and what particular interest claims the largest share of their money. She showed that as a result of the varying interests has come the study of budget-making and budget-keeping.

On Friday night, Miss Little had supper with the advisory board. After supper, she had a two-hour discussion, in which she dealt primarily with the student interest of today and what particular interest claims the largest share of their money. She showed that as a result of the varying interests has come the study of budget-making and budget-keeping.

Miss Scudder Re-Elected President—Miss Kate Wofford Gives Interesting Talk

A most profitable and enjoyable meeting of the A. A. U. W. was held on Wednesday, March 20, at the home of Mrs. A. W. Huckle. At the business meeting presided over by Miss Scudder, the following officers were elected: Miss Janet Kinsley, president; Dr. Macdonald, vice-president; Miss Wofford, secretary; Miss Eastman, treasurer. As delegates to the South Atlantic District Conference, A. A. U. W. will be held in Williamsburg, Va., April 4 and 5. Mrs. Kinard and Dr. Dennis Martin were elected. Mrs. A. B. Cross gave an interesting report of the North Carolina State Conference of the A. A. U. W. in Charlotte, at which, in February, she was a guest.

The speaker of the afternoon, Miss Kate Wofford, president of the Winthrop Alumnae Association, and superintendent of education, Laurens County, gave an interesting account of the International Conference on Education, which she attended last summer in Geneva, Switzerland, where she was one of the fifty delegates from the United States. This conference, at which there were present 100 delegates from 25 countries, was the subject of rural education and of literacy. Miss Wofford pointed out that such conferences do much to bring about international understanding and cooperation among educators and to develop an international viewpoint. A pleasant social hour followed, with hostesses with Mrs. Huckle and Mrs. Wofford.

SILVER CUP PRESENTED JUNIORS AS CHAMPIONS

Basketball Victors Received Award Friday, March 21—Basketball Varsity Announced

A whimsical little smile, remarkably gay that she stored faintly when introduced to Winthrop girls a distinctive, naive charm and a grace somewhat childish in its spontaneity—all these combined to give Miss Enters a personality of stage quite as fascinating as that which she revealed in her dances. Her radiant vivacious personality was enhanced by her rapid speech, with its quaint, hesitant foreign accent.

When asked to tell how she became interested in dancing, Miss Enters remarked that it would take weeks to cover the beginning trials, and triumphs of her career as an artist. Her fear of being considered rude caused her to hesitate before she said that she had always followed a rule, which she had broken only once, of never granting interviews to anyone, for she did not believe in talking of one's self. The first test of her rule, whether he be a novelist, a painter, or a dancer, lies not in what he says he can do, Miss Enters remarked, but rather in his finished production; therefore, she believed that we judge her entirely by her dancing. All of her interpretations are entirely original, though they are often imitated.

Musical Comedy Replete With Charm and Romance WILL MAKE YOU FORGET CARE

Exquisite Melodies, Artistic Costumes, Vivacious Heroine, Irresistible Hero

Girls, it's come! No longer need you yearn for a cure of that homesick malady. Remember was before spring holidays. The Seniors promised to lift us out of our dreary atmosphere after we return? Have the Seniors failed us? No! And what's more, they are not going to fall down on the job, for tonight at 8 o'clock in the main auditorium, the Senior Class will present Otis M. Cassington's copyrighted musical comedy, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," brimming with romance, fun, and an elusive charm. There will be thrill after thrill, as the charm and romance of the languorous Hawaiian life is depicted. A magic wand tips your eyes and lo! you are in a tropical garden of luxurious palms, gently moved by the ocean breeze.

College roads seemed to lead to a new world. She remarked that it would very likely take a considerable length of time for her to adapt herself to Winthrop's rules and customs. She said that the marsh she asked rather wonderingly who marshes were. Finally she admitted that she had noticed ushers, dressed, it seemed to her, in white middie.

MORE STARS TO BE MEASURED

To the few stars whose measurements science has been able to take in the past, astronomers are now ready to add a great many more with the aid of a fifty-foot interferometer which is to be installed at the Mount Wilson Observatory in California in a few weeks.

As soon as this newest and one of the largest instruments of the Mt. Wilson Observatory is in operation, it will reveal the diameters of a number of stars whose measurements it has been impossible to obtain with present equipment. The interferometer has been under construction for eight years. It is based on the same principle as the twenty-foot interferometer which is now used as an attachment to the great 100-inch reflecting telescope at the observatory, and is much more powerful.

In this new instrument a beam 50 feet long carries a flat mirror at each end which reflects the light from the star being measured to the center of the beam. Two additional mirrors then reflect the light from the star to a concave mirror which brings the light rays to a focus.

A series of bands, instead of a sharp point of light, are produced by the interference thus caused in the two beams of light. The astronomer, by sliding the outer mirrors along the beam, can obtain a position where the bands disappear. From the distance between the two mirrors the apparent diameter of the star, or the angle that lines from its two sides would make at the earth, can be calculated. The scientist looks up the distance of the star in his records. Knowing the distance of the star, he can easily determine its diameter.—New York Times.

Greetings—Mrs. Kinard, Miss Marcum.

Luncheon. Polo game.

Miss Bessie Harper presided at the elegant luncheon, which was served at noon, and read with much interest greetings from absent members. Adding much to the pleasure of the affair were "Some Humorous Experiences at Winthrop in Other Years," as related by Miss Hattie Newsome, Barnwell; Mrs. F. B. McCracken and Mrs. James T. Burch, Bamberg; Mrs. Vance Livingston, Aiken; Miss Dorothy Wragg and Miss Elizabeth McNabb, Barnwell; Miss Lorna Miley, Hampton; Miss Marie Kowl, Allendale; Mrs. George Eltherode, Saluda; Mrs. L. H. Tyler, Hampton, and Mrs. Wallace Tompkins, of Edisto.

In closing the entire company sang "Faithful Flower of the Southland" and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," all joining hands.

TEACHER PAUSES TO REFLECT

Am I a stoker of dead yesterdays About whom cling the cellar damps of age. Or am I youths' own soul, whose winged ways Lead on toward heights above this mortal stage?

I wish I knew. Today my mind is tired, My spirit twilight-dull; I feel like one Who must stand still while others hasten, freed With dreams, along the rosy paths to dawn.

And is my sceptre but a thing of chalk? My throne a tottering seat in realms of night? Am I a shadow queen of futile talk? Not while a shroud of me is left to fight!

Thy trumpet calls, O Lord . . . Thy servant heeds, Unborn tomorrow wait upon my deeds.

And dull care withers on the vine

Don't be always taking your work or love affairs too seriously. It will only end by proving you know less and less of more and more.

The nearest trick you can pull is to slip into the nearest soda fountain or refreshment stand—around the corner from anywhere—and invite your soul to the pause that refreshes. There and then, seen through a rose-colored glass of delicious, ice-cold Coca-Cola, all things fall into true perspective and you become a man amongst men once more.

TRAINING SCHOOL BASKETBALL PLAYERS RECEIVE LETTERS

At the Winthrop Training School, chapel period on Wednesday morning an interesting feature was the presentation of the letters to the girls by Miss Naomi Scarborough, coach. The team and the coach have worked hard this year and the results were a credit to both. The girls receiving letters were: Ruth Patterson, Gretchen Steele, Margaret Burns, Adelle Kirkland, Maud Williams; stars were received by Adelaide Miller, Ruth Sanders, Maud Hollis, and Ada Giehrst.

The team gave Miss Scarborough a beautiful Winthrop bar pin in appreciation for her work. Maud Williams, manager of the team, presented the gift.

As each tableau was shown, the corresponding Scripture story was read.

The program was as follows:

The classes will be held in Johnson Hall at 5 p. m. on Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday.

In this respect, the plan differs greatly from the one adopted last year by which students were permitted to go to a different class each day. Another change has been made. Students are asked to bring their Bibles to the classes.

The courses and group leaders are listed below:

The Life of Paul—Mr. Graham. Canons Problems as Solved by Jesus—Miss Mackorel.

St. Patrick's Day Party Given in Honor of Sigma Kappa Sigma

Saturday evening, March 22, Misses Helen Mixson, Jennie Harley, and Mary Ware were hostesses at a St. Patrick's Day party, given in honor of the members of Sigma Kappa Sigma social club and its sponsor, Miss Margaret Jane Ketchin.

Pastel spring colors were used to harmonize with the wearing of the green, and each guest was the recipient of a flag and a harp of Erin as well as fat candy puffs and sloepliepe hats and Irish favors found at the foot of the rainbow decoration. At the conclusion of an elaborate menu, the anniversary cake was brought in, bearing the candles significant of the club's sixth birthday. The guests of the evening were Miss Margaret Jane Ketchin, Elizabeth Dargan Hildegarde Schroder, Mary Taylor, Carlotta Knobloch, Elizabeth Hopke, Sarah Wilder, Catherine Wynnon, and Jean Klugh.

Attractive Pirate Party

On Saturday evening, March 22, the members of Beta Epsilon Chi were entertained in "Cliff Cave" by their hostesses, Daisy Bell, Eva McGee, and Marian Houser. The party was most attractive, a pirate theme being carried out in detail in the decorations and refreshments. The evening's entertainment closed with a jolly treasure hunt, at the end of which each guest found a bag of sparkling jewels.

THE JOHNSONIAN

The World Moves On and Up

Decrease in Unemployment

The reports of the trade unions to the president of the American Federation of Labor show a slight reduction in unemployment for March. This decrease, though small, is the first since August.

Twenty-four cities made reports, ten of which showed a decrease in unemployment in the latter case being from 38 per cent. in February to 27 per cent. in March; the printing and metal trades, and musicians' unions employed fewer men.

This gain for the country as a whole has come a month sooner than in 1928, and, although small, it is a good sign.

Russia is Soft Peddling

A proclamation has been issued by Joseph Stalin, who is practically the dictator of Soviet Russia, warning the agents of the government not to be too eager or severe in their efforts to force the collective farm program upon the peasants.

Stalin's policy is likely to break out if the Moscow agents do not live up to their drastic methods, are already fled across the borders, carrying with them stories of persecution and suffering. The Soviets have strengthened their hold on the peasants, however, by having three weeks tried for abusing the Kulaks, or rich peasants.

It is advisable to proceed slowly with the collective farm program to educate the peasants gradually on the subject by means of literature, addresses, and radio programs, for it is no uncommon sight to see a group of peasants gathered around a village radio, listening to a talk on collective farming from Moscow.

The communist central committee, which decides the Soviet policies, has issued sweeping orders against forcible closing of the churches, mosques and synagogues without the consent of a large majority of the community and the formal sanction of Moscow authorities.

Doherty-Fall Puzzle

A puzzle is confronting the world as a result of the verdicts concerning these two men. Doherty was acquitted, having been charged with giving Fall $100,000 to influence the lease of the Elk Hills oil fields. Both claimed to be in ban, but Fall was convicted of having accepted a bribe. Although Fall rejects with Doherty and his family over his verdict, he remains puzzled over the conflict of the verdicts and says it should be the business of the public to answer the riddle.

Mrs. Doherty has revealed the plans for a cruise down the Pacific Coast and to the South Seas. The family left for California, where Doherty is to face another trial—a civil charge.

Agricultural Bill Passed by Senate

The supply measure bill as carried by the senate on March 25 carries an appropriation of $15,536,827. The bill as passed by the house appropriated $15,238,620. This increase is due to amendments accepted by the senate as follows: An appropriation of $6,000,000 to fight the Mediterranean fly; an appropriation of $895,561 for flood relief in South Carolina, and $900,000 to build a forest products laboratory in Wisconsin.

More Trouble in China

There is disagreement in China over the true state of affairs at Kanchow. The Nationalist government says that if the American missionaries stay quiet and do not attempt to leave Kanchow, they will be safe. Other missionaries in Shanghai declare that they do not consider the situation of their brother workers serious. But some of the foreign officials have said that the Nationalist government is only hiding the true facts.

The trouble in the district has rather come to a head now. The communists and bandits, under Chu Teh, have surrounded Kanchow and refuse to let people go in or out of the city. In this city there are 16 American missionaries of the Catholic Church, six of them women.

The provisional government of Kweichow province has requested that no foreigners come into the province and that those already in stay quiet and out of the area where trouble is greatest. They say that the trouble will be over in a short time and that there is no serious danger.

The Pope's Encyclical

The publication of a papal encyclical on education was an outstanding event in Italy during the last month. This document was published in the Osservatore Romano and, contrary to the usual practice, was published in Italian instead of in Latin. Its fundamental thesis is that education belongs primarily to the church. It declares that education is the work of the community, not of the individual, and that the church takes precedence over the family and the state. The pope went on to point out the dangers in undue glorification of athletics, in sex education, and in co-education.

Italian Subways

The report of Professor Paribeni for three subways in the Eternal City was accepted at a meeting of the Italian Superior Council of Public Works held recently, in spite of archaeologists' fear that the tunneling will undermine some of the most famous monuments.

Have you got him, Bill?

"Have you got him, Bill?" shouted Jack.
"Yes," answered Bill. "Come in and help me let loose of him."

Fresh: "I've got an idea."
Soph: "I'll bet it's a good one—beginner's luck."

All roads might lead to Rome—but what we want to know is, where in the world do all the detours lead?

The meanest guy in the world is the fellow who calls up a telephone girl just to say hello.

And when a dentist jumps from an airplane we suppose he mutters to the parachute. "Open wider, please."

Teacher: "Why must we always be careful to keep our homes clean and neat?"
Little Girl: "Because company may walk in any minute."

"She's a very dogmatic person."
"That's strange! She told me she hated dogs."

Wife (reading newspaper): "It says here that a girl, single-handed, landed a fish at a Long Island resort yesterday 155 pounds."
Hubby: "What's his name?"

FRIEDHEIM'S

ONE GERMAN CLUB ENTERTAINS ANOTHER

Thalians Honor Terschichoreans—Miss Harriet Moore Crowned Queen of the Ball

The Thalia German Club entertained the Terschichorean German Club on Saturday evening in Johnson Hall. The Easter decorations were beautiful in their simplicity and originality. Streams of yellow and white fell from the chandeliers; fuzzy little boddies and saucy little rabbits peered from behind happy foliage at the happy dancers.

The entertainment provided was greatly enjoyed. Rosemary Cross sang and danced "Sunny Side Up" in her usual delightful manner. Mary Powell gracefully danced for the pleasure of the guests.

After Rosemary had danced again a lovely fantasy—she brought Harriet Moore into the center of the room to be crowned "Queen of the Ball."

Claude Ervin, as a bunny-rabbit, amused the guests with her interesting dance. Miss Ervin then presented each member of the Terschichorean German Club with an Easter egg containing the sheers of silk hose.

The grand march led the guests down into the banquet room, where a delicious supper was enjoyed. After this, the dancing continued until 12 o'clock, when the guests left their fun with a smile of memory of another joyous German.

The members of the two clubs, as represented, were:
Miss G. Townsend with Mr. Arnold; Miss R. Townsend with Mr. Miller; Miss Moore with Mr. Gandy; Miss Matheson with Mr. Zemp; Miss Sloan with Mr. Martin; Miss Crawford with Mr. Marshall; Miss Hough with Mr. Markey; Miss D. Zemp with Mr. Walker; Miss Hagood with Mr. Wilbur; Miss Lyons with Mr. Knight; Miss H. Townsend with Mr. Klugh. Miss Scudler was escorted by Mr. Flynn. A number of stags were also present.
